So successful in curing sick women, after other medicines have failed. The answer is not far to seek.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients that act specifically on the womanly constitution. It is not a cure-all. It is a medicine for women and only for women.

Its success is due to its merit.

GRANTED MINIMUM RATES

Austria-Hungary Accedes to Demands of United States.

Washington, March 2.—A proclamation granting to Austria-Hungary the minimum rates under the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill was signed by Sectiary of State Knox and presented to the President for his signature. Next to France, Austria-Hungary presented the most formidable obstacles in the way of tariff adjustment, but she has acceded to the demands of the United States, and as a consequence obtained the minimum rates granted by this country. Negotiations with France continue, but no definite conclusion has been reached. Little doubt is expressed, however, that the French government will be compelled to recede from its present attitude in some important particulars before it is allowed the same rates as are given to the other great European powers.

Great Interest Manifested.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Leesburg, Va., March 2.—At an enthusiasite meeting held here to-day, a boys' corn club was organized, starting off with an initial membership of about 250 members.
In addition to the large number of young farmers who attended the meeting, there were also in attendance many of their parents and others who are interested in the work.
Each boy who became a member of the organization, was assigned to cultivate one acre of ground according to the advice given by the various speakers, and this is expected to result in the introduction of the latest and most approved methods of farming in the various regions where the boys live.

most approved methods of farming in the various regions where the boys live.

The large gathering heard with interest and profit the splendid addresses delivered by the various speakers, these being T. O. Sandy, in charge of the demonstration work in Virginia; O. B. Martin, of the Department of Agriculture: Mr. Mathis and Westmoreland Davis, and the young corn growers manifested every intention of entering into the contests with the great-est determination to win the prizes. As a method of inducing the boys to keep up their interest, several valuable prizes have been offered, and the contest is expected to be a close and exciting one.

There was much adverse comment towards the opposition that has developed in the Legislature toward the bill now before that body, which seeks to co-ordinate this work under the care of the State, and the hope was unanimously expressed that the measure would pass, and that the State would in this way show its interest in the effort that is being made to encourage the organization of these clubs, with the consequent improvement of farming conditions that would certainly follow.

Should the roads merge the merged road would have to issue $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 in securities, the title to which was a serious matter. This title would rest on the bill. He thought the bill under discussion was so defective that it would be impossible satisfactorily to float securities on a merger based upon it. Under this bill the interests of the State are so protected that the charter would not be one on a parity with those of similar companies, but would be a special charter. Some time in the future the possible buyer of bonds might raise a question as to whether or not some particular action had been approved by the Commission named by the State.

The railroad, he thought, would not object to a commission to act for the State, provided that it was stated in the measure that the first merger effected under it should be passed upon by the men designated.

Attorney General Williams said that he hoped no action would be laken based on the idea, or even on the intimation, that Virginia admits that the road has any exemption from taxation. He would also have it provided that the road must be a domestic corporation when it is chartered. He thought perhaps the State Corporation Commission should not be placed tion Commission should not be placed on the board, since it might have to

It was not safe to allow it the same sort of a charter under the same circumstances when a minority is in control, which minority owns the Washington Southern. Virginia ought not, in his opinion, to consent to the merger unless the State knows what the terms are to be. The Pennsylvania Railroad is not in the habit of acting from philanthropic motives. He thought the officials which are to approve the change should sit as a commission and not give their approval individually.

Many persons do not realize that a bad stomach will cause insomnia.

Coffee drinking, being such an ancient and respectable form of dissipation, few realize that the drug—caffeine—contained in the coffee and tea, is one of the principal causes of dyspepsia and nervous troubles.
